The organisation makes it explicit to the user what the implications of substantially changing usage of the device are.

The organisation makes explicit the expected duration of the terms of service.

The organisation asks the explicit permission of the customer when it wants to change the length of the terms of service.

The organisation informs the user about firmware upgrades.

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency

Transparency